

"LIFE THOUGHT" ESCAPED.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST'S HELD FOR MRS. BARQUET'S DEATH.

Physicians Testify That Proper Surgical Aid Would Have Saved Her Life—Mrs. Fowler, the Healer, and a Son and Daughter of the Dead Woman Accused by the Jury.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., May 8.—Coroner Archibald T. Hanning today made an investigation into the death of Mrs. Barquet, a French woman, who died here last night, after a long illness, which was the result of the treatment of Mrs. Barquet by a Christian Scientist, Mrs. Fowler, and her son and daughter. The jury, which was composed of twelve men, returned a verdict that Mrs. Barquet came to her death by dropsy, which could have been cured had the patient received proper medical treatment, and that Mrs. Fowler, the healer, and her son and daughter were guilty of manslaughter.

District Attorney George C. Andrews occupied a seat beside Judge C. B. Andrews, who presided over the trial. The jury, which was composed of twelve men, returned a verdict that Mrs. Barquet came to her death by dropsy, which could have been cured had the patient received proper medical treatment, and that Mrs. Fowler, the healer, and her son and daughter were guilty of manslaughter.

His Honor the Coroner visited the house and advised the family to secure medical attendance. The Coroner's message was delivered to Mrs. Barquet by her husband. She sent word back thanking Dr. Hanning for his kindness and assuring him that it was not the power of any earthly physician to help her.

Eugene Barquet and his wife, Ella Barquet, also testified to making repeated efforts in vain to induce the other members of the family to call medical attendance. The patient told Mrs. Eugene Barquet that she had only one wish, and that was to see her mother-in-law. Mrs. Barquet frequently attempted to see her mother-in-law, but was seldom successful. She was told she could not go upstairs to the sick room because she was under treatment, and was sometimes kept waiting in the front parlor for an hour and a half before she was allowed to see her mother-in-law.

When Mrs. Barquet was asked what she thought of the treatment she received, she said she thought it was the best she could get. She said she was a Christian Scientist, and that she believed in the power of the mind to cure disease. She said she was a French woman, and that she was a native of France. She said she was a widow, and that she was a mother of three children.

When Mrs. Barquet was asked what she thought of the treatment she received, she said she thought it was the best she could get. She said she was a Christian Scientist, and that she believed in the power of the mind to cure disease. She said she was a French woman, and that she was a native of France. She said she was a widow, and that she was a mother of three children.

When Mrs. Barquet was asked what she thought of the treatment she received, she said she thought it was the best she could get. She said she was a Christian Scientist, and that she believed in the power of the mind to cure disease. She said she was a French woman, and that she was a native of France. She said she was a widow, and that she was a mother of three children.

When Mrs. Barquet was asked what she thought of the treatment she received, she said she thought it was the best she could get. She said she was a Christian Scientist, and that she believed in the power of the mind to cure disease. She said she was a French woman, and that she was a native of France. She said she was a widow, and that she was a mother of three children.

When Mrs. Barquet was asked what she thought of the treatment she received, she said she thought it was the best she could get. She said she was a Christian Scientist, and that she believed in the power of the mind to cure disease. She said she was a French woman, and that she was a native of France. She said she was a widow, and that she was a mother of three children.

When Mrs. Barquet was asked what she thought of the treatment she received, she said she thought it was the best she could get. She said she was a Christian Scientist, and that she believed in the power of the mind to cure disease. She said she was a French woman, and that she was a native of France. She said she was a widow, and that she was a mother of three children.

When Mrs. Barquet was asked what she thought of the treatment she received, she said she thought it was the best she could get. She said she was a Christian Scientist, and that she believed in the power of the mind to cure disease. She said she was a French woman, and that she was a native of France. She said she was a widow, and that she was a mother of three children.

When Mrs. Barquet was asked what she thought of the treatment she received, she said she thought it was the best she could get. She said she was a Christian Scientist, and that she believed in the power of the mind to cure disease. She said she was a French woman, and that she was a native of France. She said she was a widow, and that she was a mother of three children.

When Mrs. Barquet was asked what she thought of the treatment she received, she said she thought it was the best she could get. She said she was a Christian Scientist, and that she believed in the power of the mind to cure disease. She said she was a French woman, and that she was a native of France. She said she was a widow, and that she was a mother of three children.

When Mrs. Barquet was asked what she thought of the treatment she received, she said she thought it was the best she could get. She said she was a Christian Scientist, and that she believed in the power of the mind to cure disease. She said she was a French woman, and that she was a native of France. She said she was a widow, and that she was a mother of three children.

When Mrs. Barquet was asked what she thought of the treatment she received, she said she thought it was the best she could get. She said she was a Christian Scientist, and that she believed in the power of the mind to cure disease. She said she was a French woman, and that she was a native of France. She said she was a widow, and that she was a mother of three children.

When Mrs. Barquet was asked what she thought of the treatment she received, she said she thought it was the best she could get. She said she was a Christian Scientist, and that she believed in the power of the mind to cure disease. She said she was a French woman, and that she was a native of France. She said she was a widow, and that she was a mother of three children.

When Mrs. Barquet was asked what she thought of the treatment she received, she said she thought it was the best she could get. She said she was a Christian Scientist, and that she believed in the power of the mind to cure disease. She said she was a French woman, and that she was a native of France. She said she was a widow, and that she was a mother of three children.

When Mrs. Barquet was asked what she thought of the treatment she received, she said she thought it was the best she could get. She said she was a Christian Scientist, and that she believed in the power of the mind to cure disease. She said she was a French woman, and that she was a native of France. She said she was a widow, and that she was a mother of three children.

FOUND CUBANS CONTENTED.

CAPT. HICKEY'S REPORT ON A TOUR OF PUERTO PRINCIPLE AND SANTIAGO.

Cities of Those Provinces Put in Good Sanitary Condition—Gambling in Havana—Railway Consolidation Scheme—Plan for Paying the Cuban Troops Accepted.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. HAVANA, May 8.—Capt. Hickey of Governor-General Brooke's staff has just arrived here after a tour of inspection in the provinces of Puerto Principe and Santiago, which lasted two months. He says that the cities he visited have been put in good sanitary condition. The people are going to work and seem contented and appreciative of the efforts of the Americans to improve their condition. Owing to the absence of political agitators who have been expelled from Havana, much greater confidence is felt in the country districts in the honesty of the intentions of the United States.

The presence of bandits was scarcely noticed. Occasional reports reached Capt. Hickey of petty depredations, but he thinks brigandage is not of sufficient importance to warrant concern on the part of the military authorities outside the provinces in which the depredations occur. The health of the troops is everywhere excellent. The epidemic of typhoid fever which threatened the forces in Puerto Principe is now thoroughly under control.

There is much talk here regarding the Police Department, which is being likened to the New York force under Tammany rule. It is alleged that gambling houses and many cafes are running under police protection. The old Spanish law forbidding gambling and full responsibility for the present existence of the evil are not on Gen. Ludlow, the Military Governor of the city, but on the Cuban police force. The facts of the situation are known to Gen. Brooke and his Cabinet, and Secretary of Justice Launay will shortly issue an address to the courts and the police calling on them to enforce the law to the letter.

General here of the Rev. Dr. Wood's containing a despatch from Santiago giving the decree of Gen. Wood, Military Governor of Santiago, establishing civil marriage in that province, was the cause of some surprise and comment at El Vedado, Gen. Brooke's headquarters. Gen. Wood's action in Santiago is similar to that of Gen. Lee and Wilson and the other Military Governors of provinces, and it is held that he had no authority to issue such a decree. A decree covering the subjects of marriage and divorce, which will have effect in the whole island, is now being prepared by Secretary of Justice Launay and will be issued by Gen. Brooke.

Señor Bacardi, Mayor of Santiago, has telegraphed to Gen. Brooke that there are 2,000 Cubans starving in the island of San Domingo, and that they have no means of getting food. A Marine detachment of 100 men has been sent to the island to assist in the relief of the starving Cubans. The Marine detachment is now on its way to the island.

Señor Tiburcio Castañeda has sailed for New York. He will meet Mr. T. W. Todd, who will arrive there shortly. Mr. Todd, who was formerly a member of the Havana firm of Todd, Briggs & Co., and who was a large fortune here, represents Alexander Henderson and other important London capitalists who have bought through Señor Castañeda the Sagua, Cienfuegos, and Villa Clara Railways. The syndicate also owns the Western Railway of Havana. Castañeda and Todd will arrive in Havana on May 17 to sign the documents by which they will get control of the Castañeda and Jucaro and Matanzas and Sabánilla railways, they having already purchased the stock of those companies. Probably some American capitalists will join them in an agreement to control the Havana and Matanzas railways.

The city authorities had evicted Ludgate and seized the island. Mr. Ludgate wired to Mr. Maxwell, representing Vancouver at Ottawa, and received this answer: "The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you."

The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you.

The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you.

The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you.

The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you.

The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you.

The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you.

The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you.

The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you.

The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you.

The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you.

The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you. The police of the city will use force if necessary to protect you.

BRIDGE FALLS WITH A TRAIN.

One Man Killed and One Mortally Hurt on the Great Northern Road.

West Superior, Wis., May 8.—By the collapse of a bridge a short distance from Saunders, on the Great Northern Railway, this afternoon, one life was lost and one man received mortal injuries.

The collapse occurred while a heavy train was on the bridge, which, with the train, fell 100 feet. Thomas Quinn of St. Paul, the engineer, was crushed under his engine and killed. Harry Miller of West Superior, the fireman, had a leg crushed and received mortal injuries. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed. The train from the Meadon range was on the bridge when fireman Miller fell. He was killed and the engine and tender, Brakeman Henry Ebbins was killed.

WATSON TO RELIEVE DEWEY.

ORDERED TO MANILA AS SECOND IN COMMAND OF THE STATION.

When Admiral Dewey is Ready to Come Home Watson Will Succeed Him in Command of the Fleet—Dewey is Not Expected to Ask to Be Relieved Before July.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Orders were issued by the Navy Department today preparatory to the assignment of Rear Admiral John C. Watson to succeed Admiral Dewey in command of the Asiatic station. The order directs Admiral Watson to proceed to Manila by the regular mail steamer scheduled to leave San Francisco on May 10, and to report for duty to Admiral Dewey as second in command of the fleet in Asiatic waters. An order was also issued directing Rear Admiral Louis Kempf to the command of the Mare Island Navy Yard, Cal., succeeding Admiral Watson. Admiral Kempf is at present on duty at Mare Island.

It was said officially today that no direct request for the relief of Admiral Dewey from his post at Manila had come to the Navy Department. Admiral Dewey had sent word to the Navy Department some time ago that he did not want to come home while matters in the Philippines were critical. On Aug. 13, 1898, the day following the signing of the peace protocol, Secretary Long called Admiral Dewey to the Navy Department and asked him to remain in the Philippines until the peace negotiations were completed. He was then given the following answer on Aug. 27:

"The President has received your telegram and will respect your wishes and not direct you to leave your present duty."

Since then it has been regarded as certain that Admiral Dewey would not leave his post until the peace negotiations were completed. On Friday a telegram was received at the State Department from President McKinley, in which he expressed the hope that, if Admiral Dewey were to be recalled, he might be retained as a member of the commission in an advisory capacity to the Government at Washington.

This was taken to be an indirect expression of the President's desire that Admiral Dewey should stay in the Philippines until the peace negotiations were completed. The President's desire was also expressed in a letter to Admiral Dewey on the 1st of July, in which he expressed the hope that, if Admiral Dewey were to be recalled, he might be retained as a member of the commission in an advisory capacity to the Government at Washington.

On Friday a telegram was received at the State Department from President McKinley, in which he expressed the hope that, if Admiral Dewey were to be recalled, he might be retained as a member of the commission in an advisory capacity to the Government at Washington.

On Friday a telegram was received at the State Department from President McKinley, in which he expressed the hope that, if Admiral Dewey were to be recalled, he might be retained as a member of the commission in an advisory capacity to the Government at Washington.

On Friday a telegram was received at the State Department from President McKinley, in which he expressed the hope that, if Admiral Dewey were to be recalled, he might be retained as a member of the commission in an advisory capacity to the Government at Washington.

On Friday a telegram was received at the State Department from President McKinley, in which he expressed the hope that, if Admiral Dewey were to be recalled, he might be retained as a member of the commission in an advisory capacity to the Government at Washington.

On Friday a telegram was received at the State Department from President McKinley, in which he expressed the hope that, if Admiral Dewey were to be recalled, he might be retained as a member of the commission in an advisory capacity to the Government at Washington.

On Friday a telegram was received at the State Department from President McKinley, in which he expressed the hope that, if Admiral Dewey were to be recalled, he might be retained as a member of the commission in an advisory capacity to the Government at Washington.

On Friday a telegram was received at the State Department from President McKinley, in which he expressed the hope that, if Admiral Dewey were to be recalled, he might be retained as a member of the commission in an advisory capacity to the Government at Washington.

On Friday a telegram was received at the State Department from President McKinley, in which he expressed the hope that, if Admiral Dewey were to be recalled, he might be retained as a member of the commission in an advisory capacity to the Government at Washington.

On Friday a telegram was received at the State Department from President McKinley, in which he expressed the hope that, if Admiral Dewey were to be recalled, he might be retained as a member of the commission in an advisory capacity to the Government at Washington.

On Friday a telegram was received at the State Department from President McKinley, in which he expressed the hope that, if Admiral Dewey were to be recalled, he might be retained as a member of the commission in an advisory capacity to the Government at Washington.

CHOATE TALKS OF NAVAL HEROES.

Dewey and Sampson Now Stand Side by Side with Nelson.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. LONDON, May 8.—Ambassador Choate was one of the speakers to-night at the celebration of the thirty-first anniversary of the British and Foreign Sailors' Society. He said that he heartily sympathized with the work of the society.

He recalled the fact that Admiral Gambier, the first President of the society, was one of the Commissioners who signed the treaty of peace with Great Britain and the United States, which had ended the war between the two nations. He said that he heartily sympathized with the work of the society.

He recalled the fact that Admiral Gambier, the first President of the society, was one of the Commissioners who signed the treaty of peace with Great Britain and the United States, which had ended the war between the two nations. He said that he heartily sympathized with the work of the society.

He recalled the fact that Admiral Gambier, the first President of the society, was one of the Commissioners who signed the treaty of peace with Great Britain and the United States, which had ended the war between the two nations. He said that he heartily sympathized with the work of the society.

He recalled the fact that Admiral Gambier, the first President of the society, was one of the Commissioners who signed the treaty of peace with Great Britain and the United States, which had ended the war between the two nations. He said that he heartily sympathized with the work of the society.

He recalled the fact that Admiral Gambier, the first President of the society, was one of the Commissioners who signed the treaty of peace with Great Britain and the United States, which had ended the war between the two nations. He said that he heartily sympathized with the work of the society.

He recalled the fact that Admiral Gambier, the first President of the society, was one of the Commissioners who signed the treaty of peace with Great Britain and the United States, which had ended the war between the two nations. He said that he heartily sympathized with the work of the society.

He recalled the fact that Admiral Gambier, the first President of the society, was one of the Commissioners who signed the treaty of peace with Great Britain and the United States, which had ended the war between the two nations. He said that he heartily sympathized with the work of the society.

He recalled the fact that Admiral Gambier, the first President of the society, was one of the Commissioners who signed the treaty of peace with Great Britain and the United States, which had ended the war between the two nations. He said that he heartily sympathized with the work of the society.

He recalled the fact that Admiral Gambier, the first President of the society, was one of the Commissioners who signed the treaty of peace with Great Britain and the United States, which had ended the war between the two nations. He said that he heartily sympathized with the work of the society.

He recalled the fact that Admiral Gambier, the first President of the society, was one of the Commissioners who signed the treaty of peace with Great Britain and the United States, which had ended the war between the two nations. He said that he heartily sympathized with the work of the society.

He recalled the fact that Admiral Gambier, the first President of the society, was one of the Commissioners who signed the treaty of peace with Great Britain and the United States, which had ended the war between the two nations. He said that he heartily sympathized with the work of the society.

He recalled the fact that Admiral Gambier, the first President of the society, was one of the Commissioners who signed the treaty of peace with Great Britain and the United States, which had ended the war between the two nations. He said that he heartily sympathized with the work of the society.

He recalled the fact that Admiral Gambier, the first President of the society, was one of the Commissioners who signed the treaty of peace with Great Britain and the United States, which had ended the war between the two nations. He said that he heartily sympathized with the work of the society.

He recalled the fact that Admiral Gambier, the first President of the society, was one of the Commissioners who signed the treaty of peace with Great Britain and the United States, which had ended the war between the two nations. He said that he heartily sympathized with the work of the society.

JOAN OF ARC CELEBRATION.

Archbishop Ireland Delivers the Panegyric at Orleans.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. ORLEANS, May 8.—The celebration here today of the feast of Joan of Arc was marked by the ringing of bells, the firing of salutes, and services at the Cathedral, at which Archbishop Ireland delivered a panegyric in French. The Cathedral, the nave of which was decorated with flags, was crowded with municipal and other officials and the public.

Archbishop Ireland declared that there should be no surprise because a foreigner pronounced a eulogy over Joan of Arc, for she did not belong to France alone, but to all humanity. He said he rejoiced at the opportunity of assuring France of his unalterable love and gratitude, and that he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman.

He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman.

He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman.

He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman.

He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman.

He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman.

He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman.

He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman.

He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman.

He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman.

He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman.

He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman.

He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman.

He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman. He said he was proud to be a Frenchman.

MONNETT'S BRIBERY STORY.

ACCUSES C. B. SQUIRE OF OFFERING HIM STANDARD OIL MONEY.

He Also Asks for an Investigation of an Alleged Attempt to Bribe Ex-Attorney-General Watson of Ohio—Answer to the Ohio Company's Request for the Facts.

COLUMBUS, O., May 8.—Attorney-General Monnett filed in the Supreme Court today an amendment to the information submitted by him a few days ago regarding the bribery charges against certain persons named in connection with the litigation now pending against that corporation. He did not disclose in the first complaint the names of the persons who he said had made these offers, and the attorneys for the Standard Oil Company filed a motion asking him to make his information more definite and certain by naming the parties to these alleged transactions and setting out other and further details regarding them.

Attorney-General Monnett says in the amendment that he does not desire to delay the hearing of the motion, which is set for May 18, but that there is some reason why he cannot supply and which can be had by due process of law. He says he is unable to give the names of the persons who approached ex-Attorney-General C. B. Watson, to whom it is said to have been offered a bribe, in connection with the litigation now